DANCE.

Under the Mistletoe.

man of the Elections Committee. During the last session Messrs. McRae and Hathaway swapped positions, the former being transferred from the Chesapeake and its Tributaries to Militia and Police, and Mr. Hathaway from Militia and Police to Chesapeake and its Tributaries. Either Mr. Hathaway or Mr. Tabb, of Gloucester, will be made Chairman of the Committee on Chesapeake and its Tributaries. Col. John S. Harwood, of Richmond, is slated for the Chairmanship of the Committee on Banks, Currency and Commerce.

Fully seventy-five per cent. of the ministers of Richmond are violators of a law. Very few of the preachers pretend to return to the Clerk of the Hustings Court marriage licenses and certificates of marriage. If this thing keeps up the Commonwealth's Attorney will no doubt bring their cases before the grand jury. Within the last few days a lady had a suit in court. It was necessary for her to prove her marriage. This she could not do in the ordinary way for the preacher had not returned to the Clerk the papers. When he looked for them among licenses that had accumulated for years they could not be found, but he remembered the ceremony.

Mr. C. N. Williams, one of the best-known printers in the city, died yesterday. He was sixty-nine years old, a native of Connecticut, but fought in the Confederate service and after the war located in Richmond. He was contractor for much of the city and State printing.

A Clever Swindle.

A swindle is being extensively practiced on the settlers in Oklahoma in this wise: A man well dressed and with a business-like air calls upon the people and represents himself as a Government detective or agent, with the statement that there is much counterfeit money in circulation, and requests them to show what coin they have in their possession. He then uses a chemical which turns the coin black, declares it spurious and takes it away with him. The victims say nothing for a time for fear of being arrested for having counterfeit money in their possession, and by this time the swindler is far away.
